

Bio-Integrative Mapping

Bio-Integrative Mapping is a series of sessions that as a continued process is designed to engineer your blueprint for healing and repair. During the sessions, modalities and trainings such as Psych-K, Holoenergetics, Bio-Geometry, Access Bars, Shadow Energetics, Vibrational Testing and Healing and any other techniques and information gathered along the way, will be used. The goal is to engage the mind/body's natural self-healing process in order to complement, not replace, usual, customary and reasonable medical treatment and medical care by qualified medical practitioners.

This process is not designed to diagnose medical conditions. This is however, allowing clearing, expansion and space for your body to facilitate the magic behind your own personal healing.

As your Wellness Engineer and Resilience Coach, I connect to your system through applied kinesiology techniques and physical radiesthesia tools. The intent is to access your inner mind doctor (your inner higher wisdom) and your vibrational system to dictate the blueprint for the most effective healing partnerships to treat the physical, mental, and emotional bodies towards your specific goals.

For more information on these, the structure and fees please inquire.
